Assistance for Families in Need

Not just the holidays, but everyday families go hungry in our community.

The Holiday Season is here and the Alameda North Valley Association hopes that all will have a good and safe season. ANVA believes that now more than ever that we need to help out neighbors struggling to make ends meet during this difficult economic times. Each year there are children in the Alameda / North Valley community that will miss school because of a lack of clothing and basic necessities. There are seniors on fixed incomes struggling to pay their utility bills and medical bills. Don't forget to visit the neighbor you haven't seen for a while. The holidays are stressful for folks of any age - take a few minutes to check on the older couple you know, the nice quiet lady down the street or the family whose loved one is overseas serving our country.
